NetPay is a payment service provider focused on distributing innovative payment services through a range of online processing, payment terminal and merchant services

We are NetPay

NetPay is a payment service provider operating in Ireland. Focused on distributing innovative payment services through a series of strategic partnerships, across a variety of different sectors and industries. NetPay offers a range of online processing, payment terminal and merchant services providing differentiation through the technology and capability offered with the services and the functionality 'beyond the transaction'.

The card payment industry has traditionally been dominated by a number of large global acquiring banks and independent payment service providers, some of which were in the past part of these global banking institutions. Their dominant position has meant there has been a lack of focus on delivering innovative services based on a merchant's requirements, NetPay's approach has been entirely different, we put the customer at the centre of everything we do and have built a proposition that adds real value to their business.

Creating and Delivering Innovation

Traditionally the card payments industry has focused on delivering innovation to the consumer, Contactless payments and mobile payment applications are just a couple of areas experiencing growth. There have however been very few developments that focus on delivering innovation and intelligence to the merchant and making the services more accessible.

The requirements of the modern business have evolved whereas the card payment processing services offered by payment service providers hasn't. To drive market change NetPay has developed its Revolution platform, a system that empowers resellers and merchants to not only manage their services but gain meaningful information on transaction activity, performance trends, analysis and consumer intelligence improving consumer engagement.

More Revolution than evolution

The services provided by NetPay are considerably more advanced than our competitors propositions. The business is delivering more of a Revolution than industry evolution, hence the name of NetPay's internally developed, flagship reporting and management platform.

The mistake that the many acquiring banks and payment services providers make is the assumption that providing the ability to take and process payments is all that a provider should do. It isn't. It's about ensuring that service establishment and boarding process is as easy and pain free as it possibly can be, it's about making sure that merchants can depend on the reliability of the services they use. Giving them visibility of their transactions, allowing them to influence their consumer experience, showing performance trends and analysis and providing a detailed level of consumer intelligence that allows businesses to make informed decisions.

Payments that don't cost the earth

NetPay is the only payment service provider in Ireland that entirely mitigates the carbon emissions of our payments network as part of our Green Payments Program. Through our partnership with the Woodland Trust and by participating in the Woodland Carbon program NetPay has created 1250m² of new native woodland to mitigate the emissions of our payments network. That means our customers can take comfort that the use of their payment services isn't costing the earth.

How a payments partnership can work for you

NetPay has a number of partnership options from the simple referral of opportunities through to a white labelled service, depending on your type of business each option has its own merits and presents its own opportunities depending on how much or as little you wish to be involved in selling and supporting the services provided. Diversification of your proposition into payments allows you to generate fresh revenue from your existing customers without churning existing revenue. A partnership with NetPay allows you to;

- Capitalise on the growing card payments market, delivering 10% year on year growth without having to make the substantial infrastructure or compliance investment
- Offer a value added service to your customers or members that will generate additional revenue for your business whilst bringing your customers closer to you. A customer with more reasons to interact with your business will stay loyal for longer
